OCTOBER 23!

Welcome to the October issue of Stroll Glade Springs Village!

October is a great month in the community led by Halloween and all of its fun festivities! Hawthorn Lane will be filled with all kinds of creatures both young and old and the residents do a great job with entertaining the ghosts and goblins!

When you have a 9-year-old, you start talking about Halloween costumes the day after the previous Halloween ends. This year has been no exception and the ideas/theme will change about 47 times until a decision is made. Last year was Shrek and Fiona but

Hermione Granger

Gracie ordered off the menu with Harry Potter's Hermione Granger. I'm getting scared thinking about it but it will be lots of fun!

October is filled with football and other outdoor sports and activities with friends and families in our beautiful surroundings here in Glade Springs.

We always appreciate your recommendations of your neighbors for our various features as well as recommendations of your trusted business providers. Thank You for reaching out to us!

We hope you have a wonderful October and that your favorite teams win and win big! Oh, and don't forget to get your leaf blower ready! It's going to be busy!

Shrek & the flawless Finoa!

recently welcomed their first child Luke into the family. Their middle son Tony is a radiologist, and his wife Alissa is a neurologist. Both practice in Charlottesville at UVA Hospital. Youngest son Dom will be entering law school at WVU in the fall.

Prior to making Glade Springs their home, they resided in Greensburg, PA, until 2012. Since they have resided in the Charleston area, including a brief stint on a farm in Roane County that ended after the disastrous floods of 2016. During those times they also maintained weekend homes at Snowshoe and later in Fayetteville for the convenient proximity to the mountain biking, skiing, trail running, and hiking that the whole family enjoys.

In 2021 they found their way to the Retreat at Glade Springs and recently purchased a home on Phillip Place just below the tee box on Stonehaven 17. The move has allowed Dave, who Danette and Dave Higinbotham found their way to Glade Springs using two pathways, literally. One via their careers and another recreationally. Both are sales executives for Stryker Corporation, an American multinational medical technologies company based in Kalamazoo, Michigan. If you know someone who is walking around with any new joints (shoulders, knees, hips), chances are pretty good they have one of their products keeping them mobile and pain free. Danette is Stryker's national sales trainer and travels to Michigan at least monthly. Dave oversees eleven salespersons spread across his territory, the entire state of West Virginia.

The couple, now married 30 years, met at a Stryker sales conference in New Jersey when Dave proposed a night out at Yankee Stadium for the group. The only taker was Danette. The next evening, they attended a Knicks game at Madison Square Garden and the budding romance between the two sports lovers began. They tied the knot in Las Vegas, but that is a whole other story and would be best heard directly from their lips. Hint: there was an Elvis sighting! The hardworking couple have made the Mountain State the hub for their careers and home where they have raised three sons as well as a base for their outdoor sports and recreational activities.

Their oldest son, Nick (33) is an orthopedic surgeon in Princeton, WV, where he and wife Katrina attended Fairmont State University on a basketball scholarship but also played other sports, to rekindle his love affair with golf. Danette is also an avid golfer, and both enjoy evenings when they can just jump on the cart and get in a few holes in the fading daylight.

When the pair isn't utilizing Glade's amenities, especially the Fitness Center, Danette loves the Wolf Creek Trails in Fayetteville as well as the many trails at Little Beaver State Park for biking, hiking, and running. Beyond the lifestyle that Glade offers and the wonderful people they have met here, Glade's proximity to all their children is perhaps its greatest draw.

Having recently returned from a family vacation in Myrtle Beach, the Higinbothams foresee more travel in their futures, including a ski trip to Park City, Utah. When the fun subsides, they'll be happy to return to their new abode in the mountains of southern West Virginia where they can once again exclaim, "We're home!"

ELLA FAIRCHILD!

She loves to dance!

BY NANCY KEATLEY

Talking with the younger generation at Glade Springs is always eye-opening because it proves that they do much more than just looking at their cell phones. A perfect example of this is nine-year old Ella Fairchild – a very busy young lady. Ella, the daughter of Amy and Justin Fairchild lives on Club Circle with her parents and siblings, Jack, age 7; Eden who is 5; and brand-new baby sister Leni, 2 months. Amy says that Ella is “Mommy’s helper with the new baby – she even changes diapers”.

Ella, a fourth grader at St. Francis Elementary says she loves Math “because we get to work with partners sometimes”. She also likes Reading class and reads at least five books a month. She says she likes the bigger books which are divided into chapters. Her favorites are Nancy Drew and the Goosebump series. She joined the theater club last year and loves the arts. Her mom says she is very artistic and creative.

When asked about hobbies, it was obvious that Dance is Ella’s favorite. She started at Rhythms of Grace Dance Studio at age 3 and has performed on many stages including at Universal Studios in Florida. She takes ballet, tap, jazz, hip-hop, and flip, and is also in a girls’ ministry through her dance studio. This teaches the girls discipleship and other important messages for the community such as performing at nursing homes and churches spreading the love of Jesus. She has also been selected to be a teacher’s assistant and will be helping to teach the younger girls. Ella is very excited about this opportunity. Along with dance, she also enjoys taking recreational gymnastics at Flip Starz with her little sister Eden.

In her leisure time, Ella enjoys art projects at home, such as making bracelets, painting, and this summer she and some friends made sock puppets for the talent show at Camp Glade. She and friends, Sloane and Lila ride their bikes, play on her trampoline, make up dances, build stick teepee forts, and have an occasional lemonade sale. She enjoys her friends, but according to Mom, her closest friends are her siblings. They do family movie night, pop popcorn, take golf cart rides, and go visit grandparents, Kathy and Jerry Zaferatos who live close by.

Ella loves to travel and recently went to New York City, so now she says she wants to live there when she grows up. Some of her favorite things in New York were the Macy’s parade and getting to see Wicked on Broadway. She has been to Harry Potter World at Universal, and at the time of this interview was heading to Isle of Palms with the family, where they will spend time on the beach and playing in the pool. This fall, they will attend WVU games, another thing that Ella loves.

The Fairchilds attend Faith Community Church where Ella helps with the Childrens’ Ministry. In addition to being busy and involved in numerous activities, many which benefit others, she, according to mom Amy, is “kind-hearted and as sweet as she looks”.

WE'RE NOT PICKLED!

The Glade pickle ball athletes

BY ED MCCALL • PHOTOS BY KAREN AKERS

Pickle ball players at Glade Springs come in all shapes, sizes, and ages with varying degrees of athleticism, and they come to Glade's courts for a myriad of reasons. Some show up just for the fun, some for the exercise, some for the social interaction, some for the competition, and some for the opportunity to improve their games. They do, however, have one thing in common. None want to get pickled. That's why when a team scores its first point, one of the members will almost always exclaim with great relief, "We're not pickled!" Getting pickled is the equivalent of getting shutout in other sports, failing to score a single point, or getting "skunked." It doesn't happen very often, but when it does, out come the green stickers. Replicas of that briny vegetable are affixed to the clothing of the players who failed to score a single point. All this is done in great fun. Pickle ball failures are often celebrated with more laughter and good-natured ribbing than pickle ball successes. You want some cut-throat competition with serious trash talking? Find an evening game of hoops at the leisure center, an afternoon with the ladies of Glade playing mahjong, or a cat game on one of our golf courses. You won't find it on the pickle ball courts at Glade.

Show up any Monday or Wednesday at 9:00 a.m. in warm weather to the outdoor courts (or in cool or wet weather at the indoor courts) and you will find players who will welcome you to the game and to some friendly competition. Saturday play usually begins at 10:00 a.m. There is also an evening group, affectionately known as "bangers" who play in the evenings on Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Sunday afternoons. Periodically there are free clinics to indoctrinate "newbies" to the game. Experienced players introduce those new to the sport to the rules, the scoring, and the basic techniques of the different shots from serving to ground strokes (forehands and backhands) to volleys and lobs. If there is a more congenial group at Glade than its pickle ball players, I haven't met them.

The rules of the game, the equipment, and the size of the court keep the competition fair regardless of one's level of expertise. However, players with a tennis background like Judy Street, Joe and Peg Scono, Gayle Cox, or Heather Hill do have an advantage initially just because they already have the strokes, but it doesn't take a rookie long before they're holding their own. Doubles is the preferred format simply because more can play at a given time, and it doesn't matter if it's mixed doubles or boys vs girls, an unwritten rule is always in play. Players new to the game are never singled out and "hammered" by better players. Balls hit to newbies might not have the same zip on them as those hit to more seasoned players. Such a healthy attitude not only builds confidence in new players but heightens their enjoyment and gives them a chance for success.

Who first brought the game to Glade is debatable, but the person most responsible for its growth and popularity is Ashley Long, Glade Resort's creative director. A skilled player, Ashley has been the driving force and chief organizer of Glade pickle ball events. She has also been the chief advocate for getting both the indoor and outdoor courts built. Ashley is an excellent player who plays competitively both here at Glade and has had success in tournaments.

Karen and David Rainey and their daughters often travel to tournaments where they have garnered their share of trophies. Other playing couples include Lynn and Cheryl Shanks, Gayle and James Cox, Katrina and Rich Mailloux, Carol and Jimmy Tutka, Judy Street and Jan Allen, Paige Childers and Jeff Miller, Ashley and Kyle Long, Tiffany and Andrew Thymius, Clarence (Julio) and Shelia Dickens, Tali and John Stepp, Carol and Jimmy Tutka, Karen and Jay Wilson, and Calisha and Pasky Atanga.

Singles always fit in at Glade pickle ball outings. Zan Hill, Lisa Hurst, Al Hannah, Heather Rainey, and Ann Childers, just to name a few, bring solid games to Glade's courts. Pairings are quickly and informally arranged so that no one ever experiences that old playground feeling of being the last one chosen. Perhaps the only time matches get a little intense is when couples split up and are facing off against each other, but even then, the overriding goal is enjoyment and to be able to utter "We're not pickled!"

LOVING LIBBY!

BY DAVE DORMAN

the time, I was at my daughters house playing with her pups and I thought, maybe I need something like this. I ask her to see if I could get a pup from her next litter. I wanted a female. She guaranteed I'd have the first pick of the litter. On March 12, the mother had only one puppy in the litter, and it was a girl. And, she share the same mom and dad as my daughters oldest and the same dad as her youngest. It was kismet. Because she was the only pup she got all the milk. When I got her I was expecting a 1.5 Lb puppy and 8 weeks. I got a 4.5 lb pup. I named her Libbie after my mother. She also answers to Elizabeth, my mothers name. I have to be honest, I'm pretty much a basket case in the mornings until the anti depression meds kick in. So between my morning anxieties and her morning energy it is not a good combination. But she provides me with company and love. It definitely has been therapeutic. Christian would love her. She's a handful but she occasionally keeps my mind off of the many losses me and my family have suffered this year.

If you know of a great pet in the community please contact

About 4 years ago I had to put my 10 year old Schnoodle to sleep. She was everything. She went everywhere with me. She was so smart and loving. My daughter called her Kitty because she acted more like a cat than a dog. She was like, Ill come to you if I want affection. After I lost her I didn't think I'd have another dog. On January 2, 2023, I lost my youngest child, Christian. On January 31 I lost my mother. I was devastated and I'm still trying to come to grips with it. I will never be the same person I was and that is just reality for any parent who loses a child. My mother lived 98 years. I had 64 years with her. I was blessed. Her passing was more of a celebration of life. My sons passing was beyond any measure I could muster. I went to a dark place for which I continue to go occasionally. But I have two other children and four grandchildren to live for, so I persevere. My daughter had two dachshunds and they love me. I would go to her house and play with them. I was going through so many anxieties and depression at

Handicap Ramps! Sam Longanacre

PHOTOS BY KAREN AKERS • BY WHITNEY CAPPELLARI

Commit your works to the Lord and your plans will be established”: Proverbs 16:3.

The SAW Ministry or “Service and Wetness” Ministry from the United Methodist Temple is a volunteer group of parishioners and other community members who gather together in order to donate their time and talents towards the construction of handicap ramps throughout the community. Though they primarily work in Raleigh County, their efforts have extended north to Fayette County as well.

At the helm of the operation is Glade resident, Sam Longanacre who is the “coordinator of the group.” Longanacre, who moved to the area nine (9) years ago, became involved in the ministry after joining UMT and searching for a way to give back to the community. The group consists of roughly fifteen (15) individuals, with a core group of ten (10) participating in the majority of the projects.

About three (3) years ago, the group was showcased in an earlier edition of “The Stroll” formerly, “Glade Living.” Since that time, the SAW ministry has substantially grown, contracting over twenty (20) ramps in 2021 alone. The group has grown as well, including three (3) new members that came from within Glade Springs after the syndication of the magazine. This year, they are on target to complete two (2) to three (3) ramps per month and are sitting at seventeen (17) completed projects as of August 2023.

The group recently completed the installation of a chair lift at the Just For Kids Child Advocacy Center in Beckley. However, the most complex project to date came in March 2023 with the construction of a one hundred and ten (110) foot ramp.

Though the group has garnered interest throughout the years by word of mouth, the majority of referrals come from various agencies who work with the community. There is typically a two (2) to six (6) month turnaround time depending on the complexity of the project. In August 2023, the group was awarded a grant through donors at the Beckley Area Foundation, which will allow them the resources to fund future projects for the community. The venture runs strictly off of donations but does ask the recipient to contribute fifty (50) percent of the cost of materials.

If you or anyone you know is interested in donating time or tools to the venture, feel free to reach out the SAW Ministries directly at the United Methodist Temple. Likewise, any referrals for ramp installations can be made to the United Methodist Temple.

If you know someone whos is Making A Difference in the community, please contact Bob Coburn at bob.coburn@n2pub.com

Easy Fast Rising No-Knead Bread

SUBMITTED BY
INGRID LEMME-
CHALUT

My favorite no-knead bread recipe is incredibly easy to make with only a 2-hour total rise. Perfectly crusty and brown on the outside, and soft and flavorful on the inside, these breads have us hooked!

INGREDIENTS:

- 4 cups all purpose flour, (plus extra for dusting)
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon of instant yeast
- 1 teaspoon of sugar (yeast loves sugar or honey)
- 2 cups warm water, 112°F
- 1/2 cup of raw sesame seeds & 1/2 cup of whole flax seeds (plus extra for sprinkling on the top)

INSTRUCTIONS:

- Combine sifted flour, salt, yeast and sugar in a mixing bowl. Stir in water with a spatula.
- Cover with a tall plastic bag and allow to sit at warm room temperature for a couple of hours until it has nicely risen and is bubbly.
- Remove the plastic bag cover and with your spatula, fold the bubbly dough in from the outside of the bowl several times. Cover your bowl and allow the dough once again to come to a full rise.
- While the dough is rising, place your lidded cast iron pot (or Dutch oven) in the oven and preheat to 500°F. Keep heating the pot at 500 degrees for another half hour.
- Place an extra large piece of baking parchment paper on your counter and rub it with flour.

- ‘Spill’ the dough carefully with the help of your spatula from the bowl onto the paper and sprinkle with seeds.
- Lift the paper (with the dough) and carefully place into the hot cast iron pot. Use a sharp knife to make an “X” in the top of the loaf, and cover pot with the lid.
- Bake for 30 minutes. Uncover and bake for 15 more minutes, until the bread is nicely browned. Turn the oven off and let it sit in the hot oven for another 10 minutes.
- Remove from oven and cool before slicing.

Enjoy!

"Our experienced and talented team allows us to offer many services to businesses of all sizes," says Tracy. "We're located right here in the market area. We love what we do. It's a privilege to get to work with some of our previous clients, as well as new faces, too. At the end of the day, we are a PEO, and we strive to be a really good one. As the owner, my job is obtaining and coordinating the best of the best in staff, benefit offerings, and vendors to ensure everything is aligned with our mission to carry out our goals. The successes we have been able to accomplish have been because of our team. They work very hard to get the job done and take great care of our clients."

Tracy continues, "A Beckley Legend, Pete Culicerto, has said the phrase often when referencing sports "all show, and no go", and that phrase has really stuck with me. Our team is all about focus, dedication, and they're full of "go" - there is truly a sense of pride. I am extremely grateful for them. It isn't just business to us, it's personal. We handle the things that allow others take care of themselves and their loved ones - by ensuring timely and accurate payroll so employees can make payments to support themselves and their families, have reliable health insurance when they need it the most, and offer support to our clients in the good times and in the bad."

HEALTHY LIVING

Breathe Easy This Fall

By understanding common seasonal allergy triggers, we can take proactive measures to alleviate their impact on our comfort and well-being.

BY SHAUNA OSBORNE, NATIONAL EDITOR

In the autumn months, ragweed takes the spotlight as the most prevalent allergy trigger.

As the vibrant colors of autumn paint the world in breathtaking oranges and yellows, many of us eagerly welcome the cozy season of crunchy leaves and jack-o'-lanterns. However, for an unlucky portion of the population, the arrival of fall brings a not-so-welcome guest: seasonal allergies. As nature prepares for its cyclical transition, an invisible battle rages on, leaving allergy sufferers sniffing, sneezing and seeking relief.

In the autumn months, ragweed takes the spotlight as the most prevalent allergy trigger, with each plant releasing up to 1 billion pollen seeds from August through October. Remarkably, ragweed pollen is buoyant and can travel hundreds of miles on the wind, making it even more problematic for allergy-prone people than springtime counterparts.

Mold also contributes to fall allergies, thriving in damp areas like decaying foliage piles. For allergic individuals, inhaling these spores can worsen symptoms like wheezing and coughing. Moreover, as the colder months set in and our heating systems roar back to life, humidity-loving dust mites — still hanging on from summer — are dispersed, leading to sneezing and runny noses.

And don't forget our furry friends! Pets can also experience seasonal allergies and, unknowingly, contribute to family members' discomfort by carrying outdoor allergens inside on their paws and fur. Fortunately, simple fixes like washing hands and faces (and paws!) after being outdoors can go a long way in ensuring a more comfortable and enjoyable fall season for all.

A SNEEZE-FREE FALL

Don't let pesky fall allergies overshadow the beauty and joy of the season.

1 / Stay informed about local pollen counts to avoid peak allergy hours during late morning and midday.

2 / Leave windows and doors closed, as allergens can linger on household surfaces.

3 / Combat mold growth with a dehumidifier, maintaining 30% – 50% humidity indoors.

4 / Ensure allergen-free indoor air by using a HEPA filter in your heating system.
